Our Story: putting people first

When our CEO came to The Resource right out of college, she set out to help build a company that, more than four decades later, is now responsible for finding opportunities for over 100,000 people.

From the beginning, we have always worked to be the industry leader in the Piedmont Triad and beyond, staying ahead of change for our clients. And in that time we have built a successful track record of training, onboarding, retaining, and increasing employee productivity.

We continue to do it by applying a wealth of knowledge along with industry-leading processes that ensure a strong employer-employee connection. It's an approach that has gained us professional recognition. More importantly, it has helped our clients experience continued success.

At The Resource, we are committed to individual growth and opportunity, for our clients and candidates as well as our staff of employment professionals. After all, we believe that individuals and businesses perform best when they all have opportunities to shine.
